Brandwood Ward – March 2008

Neville declares war on all of litter and rubbish thugs

Editor: Cllr. Neville Summerfield

Litter pick at 1.00pm Saturday March 8th, junction of Allens Croft and Dawberry Roads

It was widely heralded as homes fit for our 'war heroes' returning from the horrors of World War One. The layout of the estate was inspirational in terms of the use of space and gave people lots of secure and private space in which to live and enjoy home life to the full. It's a unique and very special place, a place where generations have laid their roots. In my view it's a far better place to live than today's high density and low quality housing that developers sell to an all too willing market.

Allens Croft should be a place where people are again proud to live!

A tiny minority of individuals let down the area and we wish to send a clear signal to them and to the City Council services, that this decent community expects no less than the highest standards of cleanliness. Record breaking re cycling levels, bulky and special Saturday collections and all the other services are available. Neville believes in partnership and the local community working in partnership with local services along with robust enforcement action led by Environmental Wardens, will produce immediate and long term results.

The campaign begins in earnest at 1.00pm Saturday 8th March. Please join us on the day and in so doing, send a powerful message to those who do not care for their neighbours or their neighbourhoods.
